Reading & Writing & Frogs

Well, everything is centering around Finishing! The Research Reports are in their last phases and students that are finished are well into the Life Cycle of the Frog Podcast Play. This project is centering around Point of View.

Next week, 4th graders will be writing a letter to next year's teacher, and all students will be writing an invitation to their Portfolio Shares.

Podcast

Make sure you check out the latest Podcasts, along with the Bonus Show: Chewonki Owls. You can listen to this with your scholar and have him/her describe what they saw while you listen along with the speaker. It's almost like being there!

The students continue to receive tons of email for their amazing show.

The website hits keep coming, along with the great ideas for new sections on the Podcast. James & Tyler, for example, are starting up a Ripley's Believe It or Not! section.

They wrote to Ripley's and got permission.
